Expressions

EXULT! EXPRESS!

Exult in life! Take life, accept life, express life! Laugh or cry, scream or be silent, but express each thought, each feeling, each activity, for nothing can benefit others until it has been expressed. Old or new, each expression is a treasury in itself. The treasuries and expressions in school life are many, such as:

Student Life	12-29

"I knew I could do it," says Stuart Craig.

Teresa Heatwole and Charisse Claytor laugh at the antics of their classmates.

Ida and Lonnie, alias Kathryne Anderson and Peter Virag, prepare for a night at the World's Fair in "Meet Me in Saint Louis."

Debbie Diehl and Paula Gyorko are elated with the results of the football game.

"Vroom! Vroom! "goes Mark Kenny as he races on his tricycle.

Janice Hanula shouts for joy when the game is won.

Mike Lafferty is pleased to be with both Kathryne Anderson and Nancy Christman.

"It was easy," explains Carol Maki. "I just grabbed him."

"Be careful," says Mrs. Bunnie Austin as David Floyd hands her another sketch

THE SPECIAL PEOPLE

Often students regard their teachers as human machines designed to spit out knowledge. However, there comes a time when it must be realized that educators are a very special group of people. Each teacher feels a responsibility for his students, presents a different point of view, and has a unique method of expressing himself. Yet, teachers frequently do not receive the credit due them, as students often fail to express their appreciation. So, on behalf of the student body, the staff of Skyline '77 dedicates this yearbook to all the praiseworthy teachers of WHS for their time, knowledge, and patience.

It has been a long day for Coach Bob Walton.

Susan Cosby seems pleased with the turnout at one of the hops.

"Ayyy! Don't poke me," yells Janice Hanula.

Lisa Culver displays a wide variety of fashions on Crazy Day.

Laughing at the comments of a friend, Carolynn Law aims her scarf at the jokester.

Renae Pullen is laughing too hard to unwrap her candy bars.

Vivian Brown just loves a good water battle.

Diane Logue seems starstruck as she watches the game.

"Grin; it makes people wonder what you are up to," appears to be Carrie Krog's motto.

Even pumpkins need a good laugh once in a while.

NONSENSICAL NECESSITIES

An unspoken necessity in a student's life is nonsense, fun, or just plain goofing off. When classes seem unbearable, friends are irritable, or things look gloomy, a good laugh can lift the anxiety. However, expressions of the lighter nature are not only for rough times, but for all times. Laughter and smiles express cheerful thoughts and can brighten up another's day.

Melinda Lail prepares to pop Robin Fowler's bubble.

Judy Gyorko see-saws in the band marathon.

Mary Stuart Dalton is amazed at Dwayne Barbour's exuberancy.

ACQUAINTANCES, COMPANIONS, AND CONFIDANTS

Throughout life there will be many acquaintances, some companions, and few confidants. Each holds a definite, yet different, place in the scheme of things, for each represents a distinctive expression. Expressions of joy, sadness, hate, and love are most appreciated and sincere when shared with genuine friends. The values of individuals and society may change, but the expressions of friendship will always be a stabilizing influence.

Student director of the senior play, Kathie Hosmanek, listens to questions about the script.

Earl Norris works on a new song.

FLIGHTS OF FANCY

Daydream, build castles in the air, explore the vast world of fantasy. Let these flights of fancy carry you off to a deserted island where you may meditate on life and gain understanding of your feelings. Express these thoughts and experiences and let them build your character, for that daydream may become a reality and that castle may suddenly have a foundation.

Catherine Allen bites her tongue while waiting for the foul shot.

Lee Kennedy is wrapped up in his own world.

STUDENTS IN CLASS

A major part of a high school student's time is spent in classes. For some, classes are an opportunity to get together with friends as well as to study, while, for others, classes are a genuine learning experience. With all their work, discussions, and antics, classes will always be remembered as an important part of each person's life.

Earl Norris creates a tune during music theory class.

Mr. Pidcock shows Dorothy Blair how to use one of the machines in one of his industrial classes.

Mark Kenney shows some fellow Concert Choir members how a song should be sung.

Miss Hilton demonstrates the proper use of a pottery wheel.

SPIRIT

Every team needs spirit to lead it on to ictory. Waynesboro fans are doing just hat. The spirit stick can be seen waving at every game, and the yelling of excited students is heard all around. The cheers, the colors of purple and gold, and the screams for victory, are ways of saying we've got spirit.

Despite the bitter cold, Paula Gyorko manages to lead an enthusiastic cheer at halftime.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

One of the most memorable and exciting things that go on through the year at W.H.S., is Homecoming. The members of the 1976-77 Homecoming court and their escorts: Homecoming Queen and Escort:

REFLECTIONS

The Pep Club spent many hours in preparation for the Homecoming Dance, "Reflections." With the music of "Magic Touch" setting the scene, those who attended danced under decorations of purple and gold. All this left the students with pleasant memories of a successful dance.

The W.H.S. mascot, Cam Epes, views the crowd's reactions to the last play.

Displaying their school spirit the members of the W.H.S. band form a proud "W".

The majorettes show their spirit by twirling at half time.

Swinging to the sensational music of "Magic Touch," these dancers enjoy a fantastic Homecoming Dance.

Jennifer Morris and Michael Hamp add to the Homecoming night by carrying the crown for the Queen and the present for the King.

Exchanging glances in the last moments of the game, Tony Bare and Robin Humphrey wonder if the dance will be a success.

"So you want to be married do you?" James Sharrock, the Marryin' Sam, at the Sadie Hawkins Dance, seems to ask.

Sandy Floyd and her date prepare to take their "wedding vows."

SADIE HAWKINS

As in the past, the Sadie Hawkins Dance produced a familiar setting. From barnyard scenes to marriage ceremonies, the dance was a panorama of hillbilly living. Haystacks, a swinging tire, and numerous "corny" characters set the mood for this countryfied dance — an established tradition at WHS.

"Apeman" Ricky Benson, gets into the swing of things at the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

ASSEMBLIES

Despite the fact that 1976-77 was the first full year of operation for the newly renovated auditorium, surprisingly few school assemblies were held. In addition to the traditional concert choir, senior play, pep, and awards assemblies, the student body congregrated on only one other occasion. However, this assembly, featuring Sixth District Congressman M. Caldwell Butler, provided one of the highlights of the year. Congressman Butler made a memorable response to a "loaded" question from Peter Virag.

As a result of the "Elizabeth Ray affair," Peter Virag asks Congressman Butler that often heard remark, "Can your secretary type?"

The student body applauds, predicting victory and a district championship for the WHS football squad.

Congressman Butler skillfully explains to Peter Virag and the student body how a person can become a secretary in Washington, D.C.

Starting the football season off, the Cheerleaders pep up the student body before the team is introduced.

BRAIN TRUST SCORES VICTORY

In the first annual Academic Bowl sponsored by the Staunton Youth Commission, Waynesboro High School reigned supreme. Tabbed the "Brain Trust" by captain Jim Sinclair, the WHS team defeated Buffalo Gap, Eastern Mennonite, Stuart Hall, and Turner Ashby to gain the championship. Team members were carefully selected after a series of written and oral elimination rounds which left no doubt that Waynesboro would be well represented. In addition to their accumulated knowledge, the team members practiced faithfully to "keep sharp" and "on their toes." While the constant practicing proved to be very demanding for Coach Janet Knicely and her assistant, Mr. Andrew Shifflett, the sessions did greatly add to the success of the team.

In a t.v.-taped practice session, Mr. Andrew Shifflett calls out questions to the WHS team and their loyal opposition — Bruce Henderson, Jimmy Rule, and Paula Gyorko.

While in New York several Concert Choir members take a side trip on subway to the Dodgers-Mets game.

During the Science Club trip to Wallops Island, students received first-hand experience in oceanography.

FIELD TRIPS

School is not just sitting in class. Many events are held throughout the year that allow students to gain "on-the-scene" experience. As in the past, field trips were taken by the Science Club to Wallops Island, by the humanities classes to Washington D.C., and by the Concert Choir to New York City. Although very few students participated, the S.V.C.A. made their annual Trip to Europe, this year going to Italy. These and several other groups escaped from their routine class work to visit other places of interest and learning.

En route to the National Gallery of Art, this group of humanities and art students pause in front of the U.S. Capitol.

Leslie Weems and Nancy Bear stop to visit the Roman Forum during the trip to Italy.

STUDENTS ON THE JOB

Besides doing homework, many Waynesboro High School students' afternoons and evenings are taken up by jobs; whatever the cause, extra spending money or savings for college, their work prepares them for responsibility and life outside of high school and college. It also gives them the satisfaction of having gained the respect of their employers and fellow workers.

Mike Davis adjusts the sound during assemblies throughout the year.

While Kathy Fitch takes an order, Webbie Lafferty and Denise Whitesell laugh at a customer's joke.

Michelle Bond sells tickets to a customer at People's Pharmacy.

Pat Mason concentrates on finishing her work at the News-Virginian.

Hardworking Paul Hartnett shows his "style" of toasting bread while on the job at Bonanza.

STUDENT HANGOUTS

During the school day, one of the most popular places that students congregate is the WHS Colonnade. On lonely afternoons, evenings, and weekends, many students go to various "places" in town to stop, rest, gossip with friends, and meet other people; these "places" are commonly known as Waynesboro "hangouts."

STUDENTS AT LEISURE

A major part of a high school student's time is spent studying for the next day's test. In addition, many have extracurricular activities such as sports, clubs, art, or just talking about the day's events. Also, many dances are held, where the students can get "into the groove" of things. Although McDonalds is a place for eating, most students spend their time there socializing. In fact, a high school student can be found doing just about anything.

"The food must not be that bad," says Gorden Hahn, as Ricky Benson steals some of his potatoes.

Renae Pullen uses the library to make last minute adjustments on her homework.

Finally having the chance to "choose" the candidate of their choice, students vote in the WHS Mock Election.

Before classes, Cynthia Caul, Juanita Eaves, and Diane Wilmott take a short time to socialize.

Belinda Sandridge takes time to catch up on her sleep.

Deena Campbell looks through the card catalogue to solve her dilemma.

Lesley Hamilton poses another problem for Mr. Shifflett in humanities by smoking in class.

Senior Class officers: Robin Humphrey, treasurer; Carol Maki, vice-president; Tony Farr, president; and Kelly Branham, secretary.

LEADERSHIP AND PARTICIPATION

The Class of '77 completed a successful year under the leadership of the Senior Committee. Meeting on Monday afternoons, the Senior Committee and the officers planned such activities as the senior play, graduation announcements, a spring dance, Finals, Baccalaureate, and Graduation. A major factor in the success of the class activities was the support of the class sponsor, Miss Janet Knicely. It was effective leadership and class enthusiasm that combined to make the Class of '77.

"WE ARE THE FUTURE BUILDERS . . ."

During the summer, for one week, a new state comes into being. The outside boundaries of this "state within a state" are the limits of a college campus. Within these limits, staters seek individual responsibility to their community, state and nation. At the end of the week all participants leave with the realization that they are an essential part of government and responsible for its character and success.

Those who attended Girl's State were Karen Belton, Webbie Lafferty, Diane Barksdale, Teresa Southers, Denise Whitesell, Pinky Pinkerton, Carol Maki, Robin Humphrey and Teresa Huffman.

Those who attended Boy's State were Carl Scott, Tom MacI waine David Barksdale, Kenny Belton, Bill Rose, Scott Critzer, and Steve Yancey.

- 12. DAVID EUGENE BROOKS: French Club, Spanish Club, Concert Choir, Regional Chorus, SODA. "It's been a long year!"

Casting a smug look, Del Thompson gets ready to leave with the flirtatious eastern snob, Paula Gyorko.

MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS

The play that was chosen this year by the Senior Committee was entitled Meet Me in St. Louis, and was presented Nov. 19 and 20. Mr. Duane Hahn and Mrs. Alice Flora directed this comedy and Kathie Hosmanek was selected student director. The play centered around the antics of a St. Louis family at the opening of the St. Louis World's Fair.

A mischievous Heidi Landau prepares to pounce on her victim and "bite her in the leg."

An indignant Susan Hammock, alias Mrs. Waughop, complains about the antics of the Smith children.

Mr. Smith, Jimmy Sinclair, tries to comfort his wife, Sandy White.

10. JEFF CASH

11. NANCY ANN CHRISTMAN: (Shorty) Chorus, Concert Choir, J.V. Show, Prom, Finals. "A vision is a dream that will not rest until it is carved into dimensions of concrete reality. First the dream, next the plan, and then the achievement."

12. JOYCE ANN CLARK: DE I, II, III. "Women was made from rib of man. Not from his head to be above him, or from his feet to be below him, but from his side to be equal to him. To cling on to his arm for protection and close to his heart for love."

HELPING HANDS

For any senior play to be successful you have to have good backstage help. This year's senior play did. It began with the construction of the nineteenth century set and lasted until the big night complete with costumes, makeup, and properties. It was a very rewarding experience for those who helped backstage to watch and know that they had contributed just as those who acted had.

The transformation of John VanPatten into an old man showed some of the hard work that went into the backstage help.

The cast of the senior play shows various forms of anticipation while listening to last minute instructions from director, Mr. Hahn.

- 1. CHARISSE CLAYTOR: Beta Club, Powder puff football. "To be loved by the one you love is the greatest love of all."
- 2. JESSE R.W. COBBS JR.: (Mr. Nasty) "You can be just as nasty as I was. Follow me and I'll set you free."
- 3. BUTCH COLEMAN
- 4. ALLEN COLLAWN
- 5. SUSAN RENEE COSBY: Beta Club, Keyettes, SODA, 10th grade chorus, Mixed chorus, J.V. Show, Prom, Sr. Class Council, Model General Assembly, Finals. "Happiness is like a butterfly. The more you chase it, the more it will elude you. But if you turn your attention to other things, it comes and softly sits on your shoulder."
- 6. ALAN STUART CRAIG: Beta Club, Science Club, Library Council, Varsity Wrestling, Varsity Tennis, J.V. Show, Senior Play Set. "Keep your feet on the ground and reach for the stars."
- 7. ERNEST FRANKLIN CRISER II: (Big Ern) "B" Squad Football, Little Giants Football-Valley District Champs, Manager Wrestling, Manager Outdoor Track, Letterman's Club, Powderpuff Cheerleader, J.V. Show Stage Crew, Senior play Set crew. "That . . . be not told of my death, or made to grieve on account of me, and that I not be buried in consecrated ground, and that no sexton will be asked to toll the bell, and that nobody wished to see my dead body, and that no mourners walk behind me at my funeral, and that no flowers be planted on my grave, and that no man remember me, to this I put my name."
- 8. SAMUEL SCOTT CRITZER: Beta Club, SODA, Distant Horizons, JV Basketball, J.V. Show, Junior Class Council, Boy's State. "He who is really kind can never be unhappy. He who is really wise can never be confused. He who is really brave is never afraid of HOWIE."
- 9. LYNETTE ANN CSINCSAK: AFS, Beta Club, Art Guild, Who's Who Among American High School Students. "God asks no man whether he will accept life. That is not the choice. You must take it. The only choice is how."
- 10. LISA KELLY CULVER: Pep Club, Band, Beta Club, J.V. Show, Senior Play-Set Crew, Wrestling. "Aren't you impressed!"
- 11. DEBORAH KAY DABNEY: "Thank God I'm out."
- 12. APRIL DANIELS: Softball, Basketball. "The war is over."
- 13. JEFF DAVIS
- 14. MICHAEL ALLEN DAVIS: Lights for senior play, FBLA, Tech School, Indoor Track. "Achieve and receive all you can out of life today, because you might not be here tomorrow??"
- 15. DEBORAH LOUISE DIEHL: (Deb) J.V. and Varsity Cheerleader, Keyettes Vice-President, Mixed Chorus President, Treasurer, 10th Grade Chorus Secretary, Pep Club President, Letterman's Club, J.V. Show, Senior Play, Prom, Finals, Powderpuff football. "There is nothing either good or bad; but thinking makes it so!"
- 16. DIANE DILLARD

BEHIND THE SCENES

The concern of WHS seniors for the future of our country was made evident in the active participation in the Business Symposium and the Model General Assembly. The Business Symposium, sponsored by the businessmen of the community, gave those who attended a chance to better understand the complex workings of small town businessmen and large powerful corporations. Similarly, the Model General Assembly was a valuable learning experience. During the three day assembly, the students had a chance to supplement the knowledge they had already obtained in their government classes.

Paula Gyorko and Susan Cosby compare notes on a House floor bill as Tony Farr studies for an upcoming debate.

Those who attended the Model General Assembly were, FIRST ROW: Rebecca Stirewalt, Teresa Heatwole, Joe Rosenberger, Debbie Diehl, Paula Gyorko, Jimmy Rule, Heidi Landau. SECOND ROW: Susan Cosby, Pinky Pinkerton, Webbie Lafferty, Robin Humphrey, Sandy White, Steve Yancy, Kelly Branham. THIRD ROW: Diane Wood, Tony Farr, Tim Roberts, Teresa Huffman, Denise Whitesell, Carol Maki, and Kenny Belton.

Debbie Diehl and Webbie Lafferty take a lunch break from the informative Business Symposium.

- 1. MELISSA DITTON (Messe): JV Show, Secretary FHA, DE I, II, FBLA. "Talk about me, talk about me all you please, cause I'll be talking about you down on my knees."
- 2. LLOYD DOLLINS
- 3. DEBORAH LYNN FARRAR DRUMHELLER: FSA, FBLA. "Smile so no one will know you're mad."
- 4. MICHAEL DRUMHELLER
- 5. GEORGE DUDLEY
- 6. TORREY LUCK EAST: "There is no business like your own, so mind it."
- 7. CHERYL DARLENE EAVEY: FBLA Parlimentarian. "Use your head, it's the little things that count."
- 8. HUBBARD ANTHONY FARR (Tony): Concert Choir Riser Chairman, Regional Chorus, JV Show Script Command Stage Manager, Annual Staff, Key Club Vice-President, President Senior Class, Set chairman Sr. Play, Powderpuff Cheerleader. "We can always tell if we learned from our mistakes by the way we take care of them.
- 9. RICKY FARRAR
- 10. MICHAEL A. FINK: JV Basketball, Indoor Track, Beta Club, JV Show, Sr. Play Set Crew. "You never realize what a good memory you have until you try to forget something."
- 11. RAY FISHER
- 12. KATHRYN SUE FITCH: Keyettes, Pep Club, Chorus, JV Show, Prom, Finals. "Happiness is not perfected until it is shared."
- 13. ANITA DARNELL FITZGERALD (Neat): FSA, FBLA. "I will not walk behind you; I may not follow; I will not walk in front of you; I may not lead; I "will" walk beside of you; and try to be a good friend."
- 14. KATHRYN I. FLOYD: Majorettes Feature Twirler and Captain, Sophomore Class Council, Mixed Chorus, Pep Club, Beta Club, Homecoming Court, JV Show, Senior Committee, Powderpuff football. "The more we love, the better we are; and the greater our friendships are, the dearer we are to God."

Judge Kiser and the members of the jury concentrate on the testimony of a witness.

Citing another fact, John Cabell tries to convince the jury of the innocence of the accused.

FIT TO BE TRIED

This year, in observance of Law Day, the Waynesboro Bar Association and the social studies department of Waynesboro High School sponsored a mock trail. Students portrayed all the roles: witnesses, jurors, clerk, sheriff, and attorneys. Judge Coy M. Kiser presided in the Circuit Courtroom. Although the prosecuting attorneys, Paula Gyorko and Randy Rogers, presented their case well, the defendant, as portrayed by John Van Patten, was successfully defended by Kelly Branham and John Cabell and found not guilty. The defense lawyers were judged to have done the best job and they received the bar association's annual Everett M. Garber Award.

The testimony of Ernie Criser provides a light moment for the packed courtroom.

MEMORIES

The class of '77 will always remember all of the fun and work of their years at WHS. With warm hearts and tender thoughts, the Senior Class reminises about the memories they have left behind. Each senior has captured a memory, whether it be a special occasion or just a day at school. They have laughed, cried, worried, and gloried in all the phases of being swept along in their last year at WHS, creating the pocketsfull of daydreams for a terrific future.

There is nothing better than a comfortable shoulder and a good laugh.

John VanPatten wonders if his bread is really worth eating.

- 1. RUSSEL JENKINS
- 2. DEBORAH ANN JOHNSON (Debbie Jo) Spanish Club, Pep Club, FBLA Pres., Intramural Basketball, "It's been fun and I'm going to miss it. My best wishes to the upcoming Senior Classes. Take care and enjoy it while you can because it's not there forever."
- 3. SHERRY JOHNSON, Chorus, Basketball, Softball, VICA, Pep Club, "To the Blacks of WHS Life is passing you by quickly. Any opportunities that are given to you take the advantage of it and be proud."

At the conclusion of the annual Awards Assembly, Principal Thomas Muncy congratulates Valedictorian, Paula Gyorko, and Salutatorian, Jim Sinclair.

SCHOLARS WIN HONORS

This year's graduating class was very proud of the achievements won by many of its members, and, as in the past, these outstanding students were rewarded at the Awards Assembly held during the last week of school. Students who excelled in various areas were presented with a vast array of trophies, certificates, and medals while those with the highest academic averages were presented with National Honor Society chords. From this group of distinguished seniors came the two students who received the school's highest academic honors. The Class of '77 was very proud to have Paula Gyorko as Valedictorian and Jim Sinclair as Salutatorian.

Members of the NHS applaud enthusiastically during the Awards Assembly.

Rev. Allen Crawley addresses the Class of '77 during Baccalaureate in the WHS auditorium.

Kelly Branham leads the audience in prayer.

Cindy McDow, Melissa Martin, and Carol Maki are greeted by Mr. Howard Clayborne as they enter the auditorium prior to the Baccalaureate service.

Baccalaureate evokes spirited singing.

"SPEAK UP, STAND UP, SHUT UP"

The Class of '77 was greatly pleased to have Rev. Allen Crawley as their guest speaker for the Baccalaureate service. Rev. Crawley, who is also a teacher in the Waynesboro school system, stressed a personal point in the learning process — that everyone must learn when it is right to "speak up, stand up, and shut up." This and other remarks by Rev. Crawley were well-taken by the graduating seniors as they prepared for Commencement exercises and the post-high school world.

- 1. CYNTHIA LEIGH McDOW: JV Show, Prom, Powderpuff Football, Mixed Chorus, Finals, Tappa Kegga Bru, "A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of the world walks out."
- 2. BONNIE SUE McVEY: Art Guild, "It is so soon that I am done for, that I wonder what I began for."

- 7. JOYCE MEGGINSON.
- 8. STEVE KENT MILLER: Science Club, Band, JV Show, Tennis Team, SODA, Sr. Play, JV Show Party. "Some men see things as they are and say why, I see things that never were and say why not."
- 9. RALPH DAVID MINNIX, JR.: Varsity Wrestling, Marching Band, Concert Band. "I came, I saw, I conquered."
- 10. DAVID PAUL MORAN.
- 11. SANDRA JEAN MORRIS: 10th Grade Chorus, 11th and 12th Grade Chorus. "Your life is your own, and you control it. Just remember to think positively and keep high hopes, love and believe in yourself and others, and do whatever you can to make your part of the world beautiful."
- 12. JOHN DAMION MOSS.
- 13. HOLLY MAUREEN MOULDS: Beta Club, Band, JV Show Stage Crew. "Nothing exists but you. And you are but a thought a vagrant thought, a useless thought, a homeless thought, wandering forlorn among the empty eternities."
- 14. DONNA ANGELA NAOROZ: Concert Choir, 10th Grade Chorus, Keyettes (secretary, president), Distant Horizons (president, historian reporter), Forensics, Science Club (corresponding secretary), Regional Chorus, Beta Club, Drama Club, Senior Committee, Junior Class Council, JV Show, Who's Who in American High Schools. "You are blind and I am deaf and dumb, so let us touch hands and understand."

These seniors and their escorts watch as their friends participate in the ceremony.

A SPECIAL MEMORY

Finals. To each senior it meant a different thing, but for all it was a special night. It was a chance to express gratitude and love to parents, and for some it was the last memory of doing something with friends made during the past twelve years. From the turning of high school rings to the last dance with a special date, the last dance for seniors at WHS was one that will always be remembered and treasured in memories.

This senior and her escort walk to their place in the ring figure circle.

David Barksdale and his mother, Mrs. Betty Barksdale, await their turn.

- 1. SCOTT NOONAN
- 2. EARL C. NORRIS: Beta Club, JV Show. "To succeed one must eliminate the barriers in themselves, then let nothing come between them and their goal."
- 3. VALERIE NOSEK
- 4. PATRICIA O'BRIEN

- 14. BETTY POOLE
- 15. PAMELA SUE POPE (Pam): Tennis Team, Concert Choir, Regional Chorus, Keyettes, Letterman's Club — Vice-President, Powderpuff Football, JV Show, Prom, Finals, FCA. "Yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow is only a vision, but today well lived makes again vester. but today well-lived makes every yesterday a dream and every tomorrow a vision of hope."
- 16. JOHN POWELL
- 17. LARRY PRETTYMAN
- 18. REBECCA PRICE

MOONLIGHT AND ROSES

Moonlight and Roses was the theme of Finals this year. Under the leadership of Teresa Heatwole and Robin Humphrey, the members of the senior class worked many long hours to transfer the boy's gym into a replica of a romantic summer evening and to create an unforgettable night for themselves, their dates, and their parents.

Robin Humphrey and her father pause on their way across the ring figure platform.

Carolynn Law appears to be amusing Diane Logue and her father with a joke.

"Now, this is the way it's done Robert."

- 1. C. RENAE PULLEN: Concert Choir, Beta Club, Science Club Sec., Annual Staff, Distant Horizons, Junior Class Council, Senior Committee, SODA, JV Show Script Committee. "Never forget how to cry or laugh, for tears cleanse the soul and laughter makes it new again."
- 2. JEFF PULTZ
- 3. DANNY READE
- 4. CLAY KENDALL REARDON: Photo I, II, D.E. I, II. "In the past it was a dream to look ahead for: In the present it was ROUGH wanting to escape it, and now it's happening I'm OUT!"

- 18. SCOTT TIMOTHY RUSSELL: Sr. Play, Spanish Club, Brook, Norml, uhh, Chugga Mugga Bru. "I can do a million things in dreams where sense is no longer needed."

While Bill Rose reflects on the more serious aspects of graduating, Richard Blackwell displays his jubilation.

READY . . .

Preparing for the day of graduation has been, at the minimum, a twelve year effort. However, while hooking one's gown or straightening a friend's cap, those years seem to have passed quickly. On Graduation Day, even the many practices needed to get ready for the final senior activities seem to have rushed by.

- 1. MICHAEL WAYNE SATTERWHITE.
- 2. FRANCES MARIE SAUER: Pep Club, Beta Club, JV Show, TAR, Concert and Marching Band, Shirleys, SOC. "Human felicity is produced not so much by great pieces of good fortune that seldom happen, as by little advantages that occur every day."
- 3. CASSANDRA LYNN SCHUDER.
- 4. VICKIE KAYE SCOTT: 10th Grade Chorus, 11th and 12th Grade Chorus, Prom, JV Show. "Your life is destiny running its path; the seasons moving toward the winter of your life; your heart being ground into nothingness. The only rest, the only peace, the only reward in life is death which is your chance to meet your God. The blessed die young."
- 5. LOIS JEANETTE SERRETT: "Love is nothing if not with the one you love."
- 6. THOMAS I. SHIELDS, JR.
- 7. WILLIAM LEON SHIELDS.

- 13. JOHN CARL SINCLAIR III: Beta Club, JV Show, Football, Band. "Our deeds determine us as much as we determine our deeds."
- 14. DONNA JEAN SMITH (Flooz): Beta Club, JV Show, Newspaper Staff. "Don't listen to the people who spread lies about your name; I know it hurts, but baby, I've had it, too. Brush them aside, gather your pride; and baby, turn to me. E.J. and B.T. forever."
- 15. TAMMY JEANNE SMITH: DE I, II, III; FBLA. "Gone are the yesterdays, so remember them with pleasant memories for that is all they should be, so learn from the past and live for the future."
- 16. TERESA KAYE SOUTHERS: FBLA, SODA, Girls State. "Weeping may endure for the night, but joy cometh in the morning."

SET . . .

The Class of '77 has had many worthwhile activities, and members of the class have reached many goals in their high school careers. By attaining their own personal goals and those set by the faculty, the members of the class have set themselves up for the realization of the rest of their dreams.

Valedictorian Paula Gyorko joins her fellow classmates in the processional.

1. CHARLES WILLIAM SPANGLER (Billy): FCA, Varsity Football, JV Show, Sr. Play, Art Guild. "We all come from space and the truth will be known in ten days."

"Duty then is the sublimest word in our language. Do your duty in all things. You cannot do more. You should never wish to do less."

GO!

The first afternoon commencement exercises in the history of Waynesboro High School were held Sunday, June 12, 1977. Dr. Raymond Bice, Assistant to the President and Professor of Psychology at University of Virginia, delivered a brief address to those in attendance. The hot afternoon sun made the audience uncomfortable, but it was only a minor distraction to the members of the Class of '77. They had been ready for this occasion for months. They were set for the rest of their lives to begin. They were anxious to go — onward and upward.

The dignitaries participating in the commencement exercises were Dr. Thomas Varner, superintendant of schools; Mrs. Dorothy Trott, School Board chairman; WHS principal Thomas Muncy; Dr. Raymond Bice, main speaker; and Dr. Jon Diefenthaler, who gave the invocation and benediction.

LEADERSHIP UNLIMITED

When a student reaches his junior year, he should prepare for a year of enjoyment but also a lot of hard work. The class of '78 contains many competent persons. The class is led by John Eckman, president; Teresa Martin, vice-president; Debbie Mooney, secretary; Pee Wee Miller, treasurer. These officers were supported by a cooperative class council. A great deal of hard work was put into their Junior Variety Show and their prom which hopefully all other students enjoyed.

"JUNIOR SPIRIT OVER HERE"

"Junior Spirit Over Here Packed Into a Junior Cheer," was a chant often shouted by the Class of '78 throughout the year. One example of this spirit was shown at the annual Powderpuff Game sponsored by the Lettermen's Club as a money-making project. The Junior Huskies unfortuately could not defeat Leonard's Skinners, Class of '77, but did manage to score one touchdown with some help from Janice Hanula.

Anxiously awaiting the commencement of the game, the Junior Huskies huddle together for their final pep talk.

TREASURED POSSESSIONS

A special day every junior waits for is the time when class rings can be ordered. It is a hard task to decide from the variety of colors and settings. After a long wait the rings finally arrive, and a phrase that is heard all day long is "let me see your ring." The juniors will enjoy their rings for the rest of their high school days or it may be that a special someone will treasure it for them.

DREAM ON WITH THE CLASS OF '78

The dreams of the Class of '78 were fulfilled this year when they presented their Junior Variety Show. The juniors had to make the important decision of who would be in charge of the show. The persons chosen were, Crista Cabe, director; Andy Hersey, producer; Matt Theodo, script committee chairman. Sacrifices had to be made by all participants during many weeks of extensive rehearsals. However, the thunderous applause and approval from the audience made it all worthwhile. We hope that in the years to come the class of '78 will keep "Making Our Dreams Come True."

I LIKE DREAMING

Make-up was a necessity for all juniors in the 1978 Junior Variety Show. The dressing rooms were filled with the confusion of trying to dress in an array of costumes. From running down the aisles in pajamas to singing in evening gowns, the juniors displayed their versatility by performing numerous kinds of skits. The show included, dance routines such as "Hot-line," and "You Plus Me" and skits such as Bob Wacko, News Show, and even a guest appearance by Wolfman Jack. The juniors had their dreams come true on these two special nights. And they hope your "Impossible Dream" will come true, too.

JUST FOOLIN' AROUND

Even with all the stress and strain of term papers, history projects, and chemistry labs, juniors still took time out to have some fun. The local hangouts would always harbor at least two or three fellow juniors. Varied activities provided many opportunities to get together and just rap about nothing in particular. Then there were the times when silence seemed to reign due to homework deadlines. Overall, it was a fulfilling year, brimming with new experiences and new opportunities for both serious occasions and just fooling around.

HAWAIIAN SUNSET

To make a prom successful, everyone must express their ideas and be willing to cooperate with others. The combined effort of many juniors resulted in satisfaction to many couples who attended. A great deal of work was put into the decorations in order to create the right atmosphere for the memorable evening. Final decorating was completed when all the streamers and flowers were in place and the bridge and archways were completed. "Blue Ice" supplied the music for the occasion. Finally, at the stroke of midnight, the "Hawaiian Sunser" faded into the horizon.

SOPHOMORE'S LEADERSHIP

When the class of '79 came to WHS it was just another class of tyro sophomores. This year however, the sophomores managed to create a warm spot in everyone's heart. It was the fine leadership they had this year that gave them great achievement.

CLASSROOM DISASTERS

The Class of '79 is one to be praised for the work it has done this year. The sophomores worked very hard, but some of the work turned out to be disasterous. The rising juniors adjusted very well to the problems of high school, but a long summer will be welcomed.

GOODBYE GYM SUITS

As this year's sophomores go on to be juniors, they leave part of themselves behind. They leave that part of the day when they all put on those four-year-old gym suits, and get together to participate in sports of all varieties. This year's sports have ranged from volleyball, basketball, and tennis, to running track and lifting weights. The fine physical education leadership this year has done a good job of bringing up a group of hard-working athletes that show great promise for the future. Yes, they may be leaving gym behind, but a little bit of all that hard exercise will always remain with the class of '79.

Support your class; that is actually what the sophomores did this year. We sold many purple and gold sweaters to sophomores, as well as to juniors and seniors. Although they did not have many projects this year, they plan to make up for it next year through many more. The class had a rummage sale this year, also.

DYNAMITE DANCES

The Sophomore Class attended several dances during the school year. There were many lovely couples at Homecoming, dancing to the sounds of the 70's. Many couples said their "final vows" at Sadie Hawkins, with lively background music. The class of '79 will have with them always the memories of the dances this year.

MOVING ON

What does it mean to be a sophomore? Does it mean going to a larger school . . . being able to attend high school dances . . . getting to see that cute senior every day . . . not having to go through the lunch line to get ice cream . . . or just learning to work together? The sophomores have learned this year that it takes togetherness to make a success out of something. As they "move on" to be juniors, they are sure to be one of the best classes that WHS ever had.

ADMINISTRATION PROVIDES LEADERSHIP

The leaders of our administrative force within our school do an outstanding job in maintaining the high standards of education in Waynesboro High School. Not only do they set examples for us, they are there when any student or teacher has a problem to be discussed. They lend much support to high school functions and sports activities.

Displaying another characteristic of himself, Mr. Thomas Muncy, Principal, grins at a inquiring photographer.

Mr. Muncy smiles doubtfully at a joke.

Conducting an assembly in our new auditorium, Mr. Muncy reads the morning announcements.

Mr. Ronald Knicely, Assistant Principal, ponders on how to handle a situation concerning a student.

After giving the morning announcements, Mr. Richard Lotts, Director of Student Activities, ponders what to do next.

Leaning against the counter in the main office, Mr. Knicely proceeds to answer a student's questions.

Caught off guard by a student, Mr. Michael Hamp, Director of Student Services, returns to his office to discuss a change in plans.

MAY I HELP YOU?

Without the secretarial staff, it is hard to imagine how Waynesboro High could possibly function. These diligent ladies do mounds of paper work, serve as receptionists to visitors and callers, perform as an information bureau, and occasionally act as substitute mothers to many bewildered students. No wonder the most often heard words in the main office are, "May I help you?"

As a part of her daily routine, Mrs. Mary Frances Burnett answers her ever-ringing telephone.

Situated in the attendance office, Mrs. Jane Bishop greets another student absent the previous day.

Mrs. Polly Hawpe performs the endless task of recording students' grades.

Mrs. Blanche Long pauses en-route from her office to the guidance suite.

Mrs. Chris Edwards, tenth grade guidance counselor and Chairman of the Guidance Department, works extremely hard to keep the sophomore class going.

Mrs. Polly Broyles smiles in the face of adversity as she is informed of more work.

GUIDANCE LENDS A HAND

Members of the Guidance Department help students in many ways. They assist in class changes or scheduling, interpret tests scores, such as SAT's, and help with educational and job opportunities if needed. They are always willing to help when problems occur.

The eleventh grade guidance counselor, Mr. Frank Placko, calls to arrange a conference with a student's parents.

Mr. Ben Woodson, counselor of the class of '77, reflects on how to assist a student with future plans.

PREPARING STUDENTS FOR NOW AND LATER

Our English Department does a fantastic job of teaching grammar rules, literature, and composition, which will help each student to express himself through his work, writings, and oral presentations. Authors such as Thoreau, Hemmingway, and London are also introduced and discussed thoroughly by students and teachers.

In posing a question, Mrs. Olive Forbes waits patiently for the answer.

Deeply in thought, Mrs. Carolyn Lilly fails to notice the photographer.

Before starting class, Mr. Milnes Austin checks the roll.

Relaxing a few minutes before the next class, Mrs. Janet Drayer looks over her schedule.

While grading career papers, Mrs. Alice Flora finds time to give her class an encouraging smile.

Laying out plans for the next day, Mr. Howard Clayborne hopes they will keep the students occupied.

Mrs. Carolyn Andrews smiles at a class's attempt to get out of doing homework.

While teaching one of his English classes, Mr. George Buzzard finds time to laugh at a student's remark.

Taking a pause from the novel Walden, Mr. Duane Hahn proceeds to explain the posters hanging on the walls.

Framed by one of her many student projects, Miss Pat Bell leads another lively discussion.

Department Chairman, Mr. Andrew Shifflett, takes care of some pressing paper work in the department office.

INNOVATION AND TRADITION

This year the Social Studies Department became the first curriculum area at WHS to adopt an increasingly popular educational trend — the minicourse. Students in American History and Government participated in the program, and most found it to be a much better way to study these subjects.

As in the past, the department stressed student involvement by participating in the Waynesboro Business Symposium and the Staunton-Augusta County-Waynesboro Model General Assembly. New this year was the Waynesboro Bar Association's Mock Trial. In addition, members of the department helped prepare WHS's team for the regional Academic Bowl.

Before leaving WHS at mid-year to go into the retail business, Mr. Mike Pace was noted as a master scholar of the Civil War and crime and law.

Mr. John Reynolds, who joined the WHS Faculty during the second semester, emphasizes a point of law to his class.

Mr. Don Morris performs that never-ending task of grading papers.

Mr. Haskins Coleman carefully checks the role before an assembly featuring Congressman M. Caldwell Butler.

Mr. Doug Harris previews a T.V. program for his upcoming current events class.

Ready to proceed with the day's lesson, Mrs. Ruth Porter calls her world history class to order.

Mrs. Kathie Hosmanek entertains members of her class by telling them a story in Spanish.

Enthused by the correct use of a student's grammar, Miss Anita Richard gives her Latin class a pleasant smile.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Enriching and enforcing the students' knowledge in the history, art, music, and religion of the Old World and New World is an integral part of the instruction of the Foreign Language Department, headed by Mr. Nat Forbes. Students absorb and concentrate on their studies more readily in the specially designed rooms in the new school wing.

In discussing verb tenses, Mr. Nat Forbes gives explicit explanations on how to conjugate each one.

Miss Elizabeth Shackleford puts great feeling into her job.

Mrs. Harriet Aylor tries to find the answer to an amusing question asked by one of her students.

EXTRA CURRICULAR

The reading program is offered to the student on an individual basis. It helps the student to develop reading and comprehensive skills which the student will need now and in later years. Taught by Mrs. Connie Kraus, the reading program helps the student excell in any skill he desires to master.

The library of WHS provides the student and the faculty with reading material and resources. Students find much of the information needed during the school year in magazines, reference books, college handbooks and general subject books.

Mrs. Harriet Aylor also plays an important part in the students' life. Mrs. Aylor is available to students utilizing reinforcement activities in certain skills.

Mrs. Connie Kraus prepares another reading test for one of her students.

Filing is one of the many jobs Mrs. Peggy Browning does in the library.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

Many students are involved with the Music Department, which contributes much in the area of entertainment. Throughout the year the band has had concerts and worked on raising money for a trip to New Orleans this summer. Each chorus performed twice and in addition to this, the Concert Choir had numerous concerts and shows, in and out of town. The teachers work hard to keep all these activities organized.

Mr. Roger Zimmerman, director, appears to whistle while he works on a new piece for Concert Choir.

Anticipating a successful day for the Tenth Grade Chorus, Mrs. Bernadine Cochrane checks over a selection of music.

Taking a break from a grueling band practice, Mr. Pete Phillips gains support from a tuba.

Mrs. Bunnie Austin gives a helpful hint to Tom Givens.

During her grading, Miss Lynn Hilton pauses to question the authenticity of the sculpture.

A subtle glance from Mrs. Austin quiets the class more quickly than a loud voice.

Miss Hilton gives advice to Carolyn Megginson on working with clay.

CREATIVE ART

The Art Department is involved in a number of activities including projects, trips, shows, contests, and assistance in elementary art teaching. The teachers encourage the students to express themselves through their art, and throughout the year, the art students share their work by presenting it on the bulletin board in the front lobby.

Miss Janet Knicely laughs jokingly while waiting for the bell.

The mathematics teachers spend much time teaching courses which are a challenge to the students and help to develope their reasoning abilities. Courses offered by this department are consumer mathematics, basic mathematics, algebra I and II, geometry, trigonometry and analyses. Also, any individual students interested in computer programming have the opportunity to use the terminals that are under the guidance of this department. Each student at W.H.S. can choose the math course which will meet his or her individual needs.

Mr. Wayne Mullins takes a break while teaching one of his math classes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Roadcap responds eagerly to a student's plea for help in math.

In one of his better moods, Mr. Earl Hamilton jokes with a class.

Going over the homework assignment with one of his classes, Mr. Conrad Guthrie refers to his book for help.

Though there was a shortage of heat during the fuel shortage, there is no shortage of smiles from Mrs. Virginia Tucker.

SCIENCE GIVES SUPPORT

The Science Department helps each student to understand the environment and the elements that surround him. Teaching such sciences as biology, physics and chemistry, the Science Department enriches and enforces this knowledge to the point where the student is able to comprehend and relate it to everyday life. The extra space in the new wing has enabled the students to develop better lab techniques, which in turn helps the department to maintain high standards of educational quality.

Mr. Wayne Mullins explains a difficult math problem to one of his physics classes.

Mr. Bill Corwin is buried under test papers that need to be graded for the next class.

Mrs. Connie Fletcher takes great pleasure in spending many hours working in the greenhouse.

Dr. Esther Coleman waits patiently for one of her students to explain the free electron theory.

Mr. John Gilbert enjoys an amusing answer to a general business question

Mrs. Nancy Swisher helps another student on the adding machine.

Mr. Charles Hastings takes roll as his students enjoy a few free minutes before class begins.

BUSINESS COURSES

Business courses benefit many students at the high school where skill and accuracy are stressed. Graduates of the business program find excellent employment and employers are impressed with the knowledge and insight they have of the world of work. Academic students also benefit from courses in the business program which enable them to type their term papers and gain practical knowledge dealing with various aspects of everyday society.

Miss Carol Critzer listens to a student's reply to a margin problem.

Mrs. Audra Brodowicz looks on in amazement as one of her typing students tries to get out of a timed writing.

Mr. Don Morris flashes a friendly smile as he answers an inquiry.

TRAINING FOR STUDENTS

Helping students to find employment in the field of marketing and distribution is one of the main jobs of the Distributive Education Department. Students receive two credits as they train for a job of their choice. While D.E. prepares students for this type of work, industrial cooperative training prepares students for jobs in industry. In line with the Women's Liberation Movement, we find the female sex a part of our I.C.T. program.

Taking votes for D.E. officers, Mrs. Evelyn Kiser pauses to explain the requirements for each office.

Showing a filmstrip to one of his classes, Mr. Charles Hastings comments on one of the frames.

Dusting a chair is just one of the many jobs Miss B.J. Harding performs in her role as a home ec. teacher.

While teaching her family living class, Mrs. Faye Huffer plans a schedule for the next day.

TRADEMARKS

While our Home Economics Department teaches individuals sewing, housekeeping, cooking, and many other extensive subjects, our industrial arts program enables a student to learn how to manipulate machinery and mechanical drawing instruments. The industrial arts program and home economics courses are offered to both boys and girls.

Taking roll for his mechanical drawing class, Mr. Lewis Gurkin wonders what is happening.

On his way to the main office, Mr. Quentin Pidcock stops to have a chat with a passing student.

PHYS-ED BENEFITS

The Physical Education Department of WHS plays a very important part in the students life. Besides facing great physical risks in taking nervous drivers on the road, they help each student to become a productive individual. Physical education and health classes greatly add to the making of a more well-rounded person.

Mr. Dick Moyer puts his foot on the ground to make sure he is back in one piece from another driver-training experience.

Mr. Bob Novak takes his life into his hands as he gets into another driver-training car.

Miss Sue Burkholder takes a break while some of her students play a friendly game of ping-pong.

Mr. Billy League sizes up an opposing class's competition for his physical education students.

Mr. Jack Toms demonstrates to his driver training class the importance of depth perception.

Mr. Merv Wooten carefully watches his P.E. class.

Catching up on a little paper work in health class is Mr. Bob Walton.

Miss Pat Bell enjoys the student interaction in one of her senior government classes.

Webbie Lafferty receives explicit instructions from Mr. Andy Shifflett on how to carry out a yearbook assignment.

STUDENT-FACULTY RELATIONS

For the first time in memory, Waynesboro High School operated without either a student-faculty board or a student government organization. Since the school ran fairly smoothly this year, it is difficult to determine if such a group was needed. In the absence of one, however, it was especially important to have a meaningful dialogue between students and faculty including forms of friendly competition such as the student-faculty basketball and softball games.

STAFF GIVES SUPER SUPPORT

A vital and often unrecognized part of every school is its support staff. Keeping the students fed, attending to their needs in the area of health, and maintaining the school's physical plant are indeed enormous tasks. Waynesboro High School is especially fortunate to have such an outstanding and dedicated staff.

A REBUILDING YEAR

Left with only four experienced members, 1976-77 was a rebuilding year for the Skyline Yearbook Staff. However, the staff quickly expanded to nineteen plus three photographers — one of the largest groups in recent years. Despite a few difficulties that would inevitably come to surface with an inexperienced staff and the ever-present problem of insufficient finances, the work progressed steadily and deadlines were met for the first time in two years. Skyline '77 represented a crucial year for the yearbook to regain popularity among the student body. Sales were lower than anticipated, but optimism spread as the staff began meeting each deadline. After successfully completing a memorable yearbook the Skyline '77 Staff sincerely hoped that it met with the approval of the students of Waynesboro High School.

CREATIVITY RELEASED

There were fifty-six members in the Art Guild this year. Twenty-five of those received their "art patches" by participating in the club activities. The activities this year included maintaining the new art patio; hosting at the Fall Foliage Festival; making menus for the Waynesboro Chapter of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts; making decorations for the emergency room at the Waynesboro Community Hospital, and designing this year's Skyline cover.

Randy Dixon should watch what he's doing rather than the camera as he builds the roof to the Gold and Purple Patio.

THERE'S MUSIC IN THE AIR

The Waynesboro High School Symphonic Band, under the direction of Mr. Presley R. Phillips, spent many hours in preparation for half-time shows at home football games, parades, and various concerts throughout the year. The striving for perfection and the mastering of skills was rewarded by group and individual recognition. The band did its part to fill the Waynesboro air with music this year.

Mr. Phillips concentrates on ways to improve the band.

THE ROAD TO NEW ORLEANS

The WHS Band was selected to march in the Lion's Club International Parade on June, 29, 1977 in New Orleans, Louisiana. All of the band members participated in various activities such as concerts, shoveling snow, odd jobs, discos, an auction, a fun-a-thon, and different types of dinners. Their hard work was rewarded with a week of fun and enjoyment.

POISE AND GRACE

The WHS Majorette Squad spent many long hours practicing for football games and parades. Under the leadership of Kathy Floyd, they displayed their acquired skills and techniques with utmost precision in every performance throughout the year. Every audience was treated with the squad's special poise and grace.

BRAINS AT WORK

The Beta Club started this year's activities by sponsoring the Sadie Hawkins Dance. This foot-stomping, hand-clapping hoe-down is an annual event. For the first time this year, the club did not hold the traditional Marathon Dance, but held a carwash instead to raise money for Beta Club scholarships.

These Beta Club members listen intently to suggestions for future fund raising projects.

Officers of the Beta Club this year are Eileen John, corresponding secretary; Denise Whitesell, vice-president; Teresa Huffman, president; Nancy Stoner, treasurer; and, absent from the picture, Paula Gyorko, secretary.

With a look of frustration Teresa Huffman wonders why the attendence of the meetings are so low.

MAGICAL MUSIC

This year the Concert Choir performed many wonderful concerts. Along with their concerts at elementary schools, assemblies, and special concerts they also gave a great Christmas performance in conjunction with the other chorus. The choir also sent six choristers to all-state competion.

Elizabeth Barksdale turns pages for John Van Patten during "Unchained Melodies."

Tenors: FIRST ROW: Joel Hulett, John Van Patten, Scott Noonan. SECOND ROW: Marshall Howard, Mark Kenney, Jim Sinclair. THIRD ROW: Al Hughes, Peter Virag. FOURTH ROW: Tom Fuller, Ronnie Prettyman, Bobby Hughes, Tony Kent, Steve Sutherland.

Pam Pope, Pinky Pinkerton, and Robin Humphrey reproduce television commercials in an assembly for the student body.

Singing in this quartet are Janis Pullen, Shawn McQuate, Diane Barksdale, and Tony Kent.

Concert Choir brings back memories of bygone days.

Pam Pope and Teresa Huffman sing their version of a popular advertisement.

Striving to be the best they can, the Concert Choir often holds extra rehearsals.

Just to make sure that the choristers know the music, Mr. Roger Zimmerman goes over the song again.

"ON THE GO"

In a sense, the Concert Choir could be called a community, as well as a school organization. They sang in rest homes and for clubs and organizations in the Waynesboro and surrounding area. For the second time, the choristers produced a fall variety show, "Unchained Melodies," in addition to their annual spring variety show, "Smiles." These, added to the Christmas and Spring Concerts and out of town performances, made 1976-1977 another year "on the go" for the WHS Concert Choir.

FIRST ROW: Dawn McAllister, Janie Melendez, Kathy Floyd. SECOND ROW: Susan Cosby, Candi Bishop, Lisa Brooks, Debbie Diehl. THIRD ROW: Patti Hall, Denise Whitesell, Webbie Lafferty, Nancy Bear.

FIRST ROW: Van Anderson, Jeff Barringer, David Schmick. SECOND ROW: Keith Miller, Sean Riley, DeWayne Barbour, Tony Daniels. THIRD ROW: Dean Earman, Krag Cash, Brian Smith, Kenny Taylor.

FIRST ROW: Mike Gray, Roger Davis, Joe Dillard, Mitchell Clark. SECOND ROW: Mike Nichols, Keith Bare, Scott Rowe, Tony Poleo. THIRD ROW: David Italiano, Greg Fox, Dennis Coffey, David Higgins, Jim Clark.

MUSICAL ABILITY

Also part of the curriculum at W.H.S. is the 10th grade chorus under the leadership of Mrs. Bernadine Cochrane and the 11th-12th grade chorus directed by Mr. Roger Zimmerman. Members of the chorus displayed their knowledge of music and talent in the annual Christmas and Spring concerts. They have also proved themselves to be an important part of the musical program.

FIRST ROW: Sharon McClung, Ronette Bryant, Jane Jones. SECOND ROW: Lisa Harris, Theresa Fitzgerald, Bridget Thomas, Jackie Brown. THIRD ROW: Kay Foster, Ellen Fox, Terry Richardson, Renee Toth, Cory Durrette, Sherry Wyant. FOURTH ROW: Deanne Arms, Beth Lundstrum, Amy Alwine, Carolyn Durrette, Kay Diggs, Donna Duff, Cynthia Cauls.

HELPING HANDS

Imagine having a Christmas party for the teachers, going to DECA contests in Richmond, making Easter baskets for a Nursing home, working the concession stand, and lastly, having the successful dance "Imagine" all in the same year. These were just a few of the projects of the DECA Club in the 1976-1977 year. Officers this year were as follows: Cheryl McDaniel, President; Charlene Fitch, Treasurer; Theresa Trohaugh, Secretary; and Bev Weatherford, Historian.

Kim Bryant, Melissa Diton, and Vickie Pugh wait patiently on more teachers to arrive at the Christmas luncheon.

During the Christmas luncheon for the teachers, Mrs. Kiser takes a break and tells Santa all she wants for Christmas.

After experiencing a cold night in the concession stand, Mrs. Kraus, Tim Pickett, Theresa Trohaugh, Bev Weatherford, and Robert Toman bundle together in hopes of getting warm.

Arm in arm, Tess Lovegrove, and Dirk Niedentohl, prepare to show off their attire at the fashion show.

FIRST ROW: Sandi Floyd, Lisa Mawyer, Kathy Coffey, Janet Vailes, Jennifer Snider, Teri Smith, Carolyn Durette, Sandra Serrett, Theresa Kirby, Vicky Pugh, Sherri Wood. SECOND ROW: Gail Goff, Denise Pierce, Kim Mawyer, Lisa Kite, Lisa Cash, Margaret Carter, Correy Durrett.

Karen Tomlinson and Sandi Floyd help collect money for the Heart Fund.

FBLA IS BUSY

The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) had many successful fund-raising projects during the school year. In November, the club made miniature turkeys to set on hospital patients' meal trays. During the Christmas season, the club collected food for the needy. In February, FBLA members raised $176 for the Heart Fund. Bake sales, rummage sales, and car washes were among other projects conducted by the club this year. All in all, it was a busy and productive year for the WHS FBLA club.

VICA advisor Mr. Charles Hastings expresses some doubt concerning a possible club project.

VICA PROMOTES CAREERS

As in the past, VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) had as one of its main goals the promotion of working careers in the industrial sector of the American economy. Among its activities this year, the club attended the District IV VICA Rally at the Massnutten Technical Center in Harrisonburg. Here, students visited classes where they were given brief explanations of various VICA procedures and events. Club projects and other activities were discussed by VICA, but interest seemed to wane as the year progressed.

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainment was the key word for this year's talented group of active WHS players. Many of the senior dramatists opened the year by assuming major roles in this year's "Meet Me In St. Louis." Following quickly, the drama club started rehearsals for the one-act play "Of Poems, Youth and Spring," which was directed by Duane Hahn and won for the versatile group the trophy as "Best Production" in the Valley District. Meanwhile, the drama class, under the direction of Mrs. Alice Flora, wrote and presented to all the elementary schools their own delightful version of "King Arthur." Closing the productive year of talented activities, the dramatists presented their annual, fun-frolicking "Spring Cabaret" filled with a bill of one-acts mixed with show tunes and dances from such greats as "Kiss Me, Kate" and "Cabaret."

A chorus line of Cabaret singers and dancers introduce "Spring Cabaret '77" with "Another Opening, Another Show."

Corinne McCutchen, Shawn McQuate, and Sandi Floyd fun it up in a rousing rendition of "Two Ladies" from the "Spring Cabaret."

John VanPatten welcomes the audience to the Drama Club's annual "Spring Cabaret" with his interpretation of "Willkomen."

In "Song," Shawn McQuate and Sandi Floyd tell the audience about the tribulations of rehearsing and presenting a show in only three days.

FIRST ROW: Kelly Branham, Jim Bryan, Corinne McCutchan, John Van Patten. SECOND ROW: Crista Cabe, Sandy Fitzgerald, Rose Mary Richardson, Nancy Stoner, David See, Jim Meadows, Diane Alaxander. THIRD ROW: Mr. Hahn, Mrs. Flora, Michelle Bond, Rusty Buchanan, Sandi Floyd, Scott Noonan, Robert Strickland.

Drama Club Member, Karen Tomlinson, gives a very smooth performance as Katie in this year's "Meet Me In St. Louis" with Jim Sinclair.

"Spring Cabaret's" company presents a knee-slapping rendition of "The Varsity Drag."

Matt Theado and Mark Cline discuss the pulling of the legendary sword.

"OF POEMS, YOUTH AND SPRING" RATED SUPERIOR

The WHS one-actors, under the direction of Mr. Duane Hahn, presented "Of Poems, Youth, And Spring" in Valley District competition and walked away with the trophy as "Best Production 1976-77." Traveling to regional competition, the actors again received a superior rating — the only one presented — which entitled them to a final performance at the University of Virginia in the spring.

Michelle Bond portrays, with interpretive ballet, the season Winter as the couple finds that their romance is ending.

In "Of Poems, Youth, And Spring," Susan (Sandy Fitzgerald) and Toby (Mark Kenney) portray high school first love as the voices (Corinne McCutchan, Tom Spooner, Heidi Landau) try to understand.

In another scene from "Poems" the voices and chorus discuss the different aspects of love and the heart.

Drama Club and Thespian members Dodie Beverage, Michelle Bond, Kelly Branham, and Heidi Landau play four daughters in this year's major production "Meet Me In St. Louis."

Directors Mr. Duane Hahn and Mrs. Flora give last minute notes to the cast of "St. Louis," before the curtain opens.

OUTSTANDING THESPIANS

The International Thespian society worked very closely with the dramatists this year in every production undertaken by the high school and also the community theatre group — The Waynesboro Players. After the final show "Spring Cabaret" in April, new Thespian members were inducted and Miss Kelly Branham and John VanPatten were announced as the two seniors who contributed most to the club during their three years at Waynesboro High School.

Showing his versatility, John VanPatten gives a dynamic and comical portrayal as Grandpa in "Meet Me In St. Louis."

"I really didn't do it!" pleads Tony Farr to the policeman.

FIRST ROW: Ty Whitaker, Tracy Landis, Tim Baker, John Reibach, Del Thompson, Mike Reader, Casey Dunaway, Tom Gilmore. SECOND ROW: Tee Parker, Tom MacIlwaine, Cam Epes, Roger Daggy, Joel Hullet. THIRD ROW: John Krog, David Barksdale, Tony Wagner, Robert Strickland, David Fountain, Mark Hendrix, Matt Theado. FOURTH ROW: Ricky Benson, Brian Juchter, Pee Wee Miller, John Eckman, Kenny Belton, Beau Cook, Randy Rogers, Tony Farr, Andy Kivistik, Jimmy Meadows.

Under the leadership of Tim Baker, president; Tony Farr, vice-president; David Barksdale, treasurer; and Tom MacIlwaine, secretary; the Key Club had a successful year.

LENDING A HELPING HAND

The 1976-77 Key Club had a very busy and prosperous year. On fall afternoons before each home football game, members spent many hours carefully lining yard markers on the football field. Many nights were sacrificed by members of the Key Club to collect admission to sports events. At halftime, during every home basketball game, Key Club members held the ropes to keep fans off the court. The Keyette-Key Club dance, with music by "Magic Touch," was the highlight of the eventful year.

As David Barksdale fulfills his dream of being a janitor, he sweeps the floor during halftime.

Tim Baker inquires of the salesclerk, "How much is a six-pack?"

KEYETTE KINDNESS

The school year 1976-1977 was a very busy one for the Keyettes. Helping the Cancer Fund with various projects was one of their major activities. They also made Christmas very enjoyable by having a dinner for the teachers. Also, during the yuletide season was the annual Keyette-Key Club dance. Of course, we can not forget the daisies which were given out on St. Patrick's day. Last but not least was the fattening banana split party.

Catherine Allen and Rick Lotts dance to the music of Magic Touch at the Keyette-Key Club dance.

FIRST ROW: Paula Gyorko, Secretary; Candy Bishop, Treasurer. SECOND ROW: Donna Naoroz, President; Carrie Krog, Historian; Debbie Diehl, Vice-President.

THIRD ROW: Naomi Shoemaker, Laura Clay, Cathy Wood, Nancy Stoner, Debbie Mooney. FOURTH ROW: Mary Beth Sauer, Janet Wilson, Shannon McLear, Vickie Lotts, Catrina Harlow.

While waiting to be asked to dance at a disco, Kathy Wood also tries to capture the title of best-dressed.

Janice Hanula makes Gloria McCormick pose for a picture in one of her most unusual outfits.

Flanked by Pam Pope and Robin Humphrey, WHS Athletic Director Richard Lotts announces an award at the Winter Sports Banquet.

ATHLETES IN ACTION

1976-77 was another active year for the Lettermens Club. The club sponsored the annual powder-puff football game, intramural basketball tournament, student-faculty softball game, sports banquets, and members attended a pro football game (Baltimore-Cincinnati). There was also renewed interest this year in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) which held weekly fellowship meetings.

One of several active members of both the Lettermens Club and the FCA was Candi Nichols.

Nat Nicholas hauls down a rebound during an intramural basketball game.

Mainly responsible for the increased interest in the FCA was Coach Bob Walton.

PEP SPARKS SPIRIT

1976-77 marked the largest turnout in the past several years for the Pep Club. The main activity this year was Homecoming, whose theme was "Reflections." The Homecoming bonfire sparked much class spirit with the seniors winning the spirit stick. Long hours and hard work were put into the skits that the club presented during football and basketball season. As a money making project, WHS valley district champion T-Shirts were sold. Members of the Pep Club would like to extend their thanks to Mrs. Faye Huffer who was this year's sponsor.

Kelly Branham hops around school on crazy day.

Pep Club officers: Diane Logue, president; Steffani Hetman, vice president; Lisa Culver, secretary.

FOURTH ROW: Janice Hanula, Judy Gyorko, Michele Ketterer, Melissa Mabry, Catherine Allen.

FIRST ROW: Steffani Hetman, Diane Logue, Lisa Culver. SECOND ROW: Paula Gyorko, Cindy Campbell, Joan Grimm, Lisa Kern, Webbie Lafferty, Carolyn Law, Kathy Fitch, Joan Ritchie, Pinky Pinkerton, Debbie Diehl, Debbie LaBelle, Kathy Floyd. SITTING: Kelly Branham, Teresa Lovegrove.

On Crazy Day, Jimmy Meadows shows the girls how to get a man.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The highest form of academic excellence at Waynesboro High School is to be selected as a member of the National Honor Society. In addition to this avenue of scholastic achievement, students also have the opportunity to demonstrate their academic abilities in debate, forensics, and the previously mentioned Academic Bowl competition. In such competition, 1976-77 was a banner year for WHS as indicated by the following:

Forensics Team
First Place — Valley District
One-Act Play Cast
First Place — Valley District
First Place — Region II
Debate Team
Negative Team — Second Place — Valley District
Academic Bowl Team
Won Championship in First Annual Event

National Honor Society Officers for 1976-77: Carol Maki, Jim Sinclair, Denise Whitesell, and Teresa Huffman.

PARTICIPATION IS THE KEY

One of the most active clubs this year was the Science Club. The key to success of the club was participation, with almost every member involved in all of the activities. The club made various contributions to school and community, which included setting up a booth at the Fall Foliage Festival, helping with the Skyline Kennel Club's dog shows, and planting shrubs and tulips for the school. An emphasis on broadening scientific knowledge was another goal of the Science Club. This was accomplished by having speakers on various subjects and taking field trips, such as to a goat farm. Activities, projects, and trips contributed to a well-rounded club.

SODA MAKES STRIDES

Participation in SODA (Student Organization on Developing Attitudes) dramatically increased this year as the size of the group more than doubled last year's number. Training workshops were conducted in August and September, while regular breakfast meetings were held early in the year at McDonalds. Placing emphasis on values education, SODA members worked with students in the city elementary schools.

CLUBS NEED SPARK

This year's Protect Your Environment Club (PYE) planned several worthwhile activities but suffered from the inability to follow through. All in all, it was a rather inactive year for the club. Much the same was the Distant Horizons Club. Perhaps not having an AFS student at Waynesboro High this year caused some decline in interest.

LET'S HAVE A VICTORY TONIGHT

Enthusiastic smiles, jumps, and cheers given by the cheerleaders inspired the fans of WHS. Throughout the long, hot summer practices and cheerleading camps, these girls kept practicing and smiling. Whether the team was behind or stomping the other team, the WHS cheerleaders retained their spirit and urged the crowd to do so too.

THE PACK IS BACK

The 1976 Waynesboro cross country team completed an outstanding 10-0 record. Waynesboro went on to regain the Valley District title, after a one year lapse. Coach Jack Toms stressed working hard in practices, and in bad weather as well as good. He attributes their undefeated season to "pack running." They began as a team, and ended each race as a team.

The 1976 varsity football team had it's best season this year winning the District Championship. This great success can be attributed to the hard practices during the summer months and the expertise coaching skill of head coach Bob Walton. Coach Walton pointed out how proud he was of the teams' success. He was especially pleased with the teams improved attitude, dedication, and a close feeling of togetherness. Waynesboro High School wishes to extend its appreciation to these hardworking players for their first-rate accomplishments.

WOOTEN'S WONDERS WERE WINNERS

The 1976 B-squad football team had a sensational season, this year having only lost one game. This was the best season ever. During their whole season, they only gave up a total of 15 points and they scored a total of 108. The gridders even beat Charlottesville, a Triple A school. Coach Wooten attributes their great record and season to their super team effort and winning attitude.

RECOGNITION

This year, the Waynesboro Lady G's finally got their deserved recognition by having each of their games, home and away, broadcast over radio station WANV. Having had seven returning lettermen, their terrific season was predicted before the games even started. The cagers tied for second place in the valley district tournament with Lee High, the defending state champions, as compared to last year's fifth place in district. The Giants were fortunate to have such outstanding players as Cinny Johnson, Geneva Howard, and Kaye Diggs. Coach Sue Burkholder commented that this was the best season girl's basketball has had in six years.

NEW FACES

The 1976-77 basketball season saw some changes. Coach Larry Leonard from Kate Collins instructed the Little Giants this year. Although the season was not very successful, with a 9-11 record, the Little G's did see some new starts this year. The team was led by fine offensive players and a superb defense which sparked the team's playing. Waynesboro is looking forward to future success with the new coach and the upcoming J-V players.

Looking for a chance to pass, Andrew Ratliff attempts to keep the ball away from his opponents.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

Starting out with a new coach and a new basketball squad, the 1976-77 JV basketball team steadily improved as the season continued, placing second in the district. The Little Giants showed their improvement by winning six of their last eight games, to finish up with an overall record of 10-10, and a district record of 7-3.

JV coach Roger Coulling stated, "I think that your won-lost record is only a partial measure of team success. We had tremendous success in growth as individual players and as a team unit." The overall philosophy of the squad was: "Believe in yourself."

Team members listen intently to coach Coulling's instructions on the next play.

GIANT THINCLADS SHINE

The 1976-77 season was a banner year for the WHS Indoor Track Team. After completing a undefeated season, head coach Jack Toms predicted victories in district and state competition. Due to the fuel shortage and cold weather these meets were not held. The squad was elated when they learned they could participate in the Southern Invitational Track Classic held at the University of Tennessee. The team was even happier at the final outcome — victory! The thinclads won over 90 schools from 10 different states. Neil Freeman, a pole vaulter, cleared 14'6" for a new indoor record, and he is ranked eighth in the nation by TRACK & FIELD magazine. Waynesboro High School is proud of it's Indoor Track team and feels it could not have achieved this outstanding victory without the aid of its coaching staff consisting of: Jack Toms, Bill League, Doug Harris, Ron Hennis, and Ed Driskill.

GRAPPLERS ON THE GO

The Waynesboro 1976-77 wrestling team showed that a team can really improve in a year. They went from a record of 0-10 last year to a record of 8-3 this year. Head coach George Buzzard ascribed the improvement to the 100 per cent effort of all the wrestlers all the time. Last year, four of the grapplers graduated, but this year the team added four new members to the squad. This year was the first time the WHS wrestling team had a district winner; David Bowman and Del Thompson each won the title in his weight group. Bowman also won first in the regional matches, and Thompson placed third. Next year, coach Buzzard is looking forward to a similar season with the team.

Richard Jackson tries to break down his opponent from James River.

After winning his match, Jeff Pultz is congratulated by his fellow wrestlers.

Donald Stout concentrates on working for a folly.

Team leaders, Del Thompson with a 9-1 record, and David Bowman with a 9-0-2 record led the squad to a second place district finish.

A STRONG SECOND

The 1977 Outdoor Track Team finished a strong second in both district and regional competition and placed fifth in the state. The highlight of an 8-1 regular season had to be the victory over arch-rival Lee High who was district and regional champions. Another outstanding effort was the squad's victory in the Augusta County Relays. New shcool records set this year were by Neil Freeman in the pole vault (15'3''), Mike Eaves in the triple jump (43'6''), Dean Earman in the intermediate hurdles (39.7 sec.), and Darrell Earman in the mile run (4:25). In state competition, Neil Freeman and Chad Austin won first and second respectively in the pole vault, with Freeman setting a new state record of 14'.

Dirk Niedentohl crosses the finish line ahead of all others in the relay race.

1977 Boys' Tennis Team: FIRST ROW: Doug Powell, Jodie Gentzlinger, Robert Craig. For the first time in memory, the WHS Boys' Tennis Team defeated perennial state champion Harrisonburg, and in doing so, the Little Giants dethroned the Blue Streaks as Valley District Champions. The team got off to a slow start under new coach John Reynolds, but they made remarkable progress on their way to the finest season in school history — a 16-4 mark. The key to this great success was the blending of youthful netters with seasoned veterans.

STATE CHAMPS AGAIN

With a wealth of returning talent and the addition of transfer students, Mary and Ann Perkins, the 1977 WHS Girls' Tennis Team again captured the State Double-A Championship. The blending of skill, hard work, determination, and good coaching led the Lady Giants to a solid 13-1 district record and the district and regional titles. Although there were many individuals standouts, each member of the team contributed greatly to the squad's outstanding success.

LINKSTERS UP RECORD

The Waynesboro High School 1977 golf team finished their season with an overall record of 6-5. Contributing to this record were such outstanding golfers as Paul Hartnett, who also won the Little Giant Award, Steve Rogers, Scott Wilson, John Krog, and David Fountain. The Giants had a good season compared to last year, and expect an even better season next year. Coach Merv Wooten commented "I am really looking forward to next year because of our youth and the dedication of the players."

SUPERB SEASON

The 1977 Girl's Softball Team showed dramatic progress, going from a 6-9 record last year to an outstanding mark of 10-2 this year. In only their third year of competition, the Lady G's won the Valley District Championship. Although the team lost to Culpeper in the opening round of the Region II Tournament, this did not alter the gals' enthusiasm. Everyone was proud of the squad for their truly superb season.

NO WAY TO GO BUT UP

Finishing last in the district, the 1977 baseball team ended it's season with an overall record of 4-14, and a district mark of 1-9. The team had only two veterans, Krag Cash and David Mawyer, from last year. The Giants are looking forward to next year, and hope to improve because of the experience gained this year. Coach Dick Moyer stated "With God's help we'll do better."

DETERMINATION

Through all the long years of education, the most needed characteristic is determination. Within this trait lies the direction of a life-time. With determination, the culmination of a project is always in sight; without it, there is no will to finish what has been started. For every problem, the decision must be made whether to stick with it or not, the only difference being a successfully completed goal.

While others keep working, Marshall Howard looks up to see who has disturbed his concentration.

During the Student-Faculty Volleyball Game, Pam Kestner is not sure how to handle this ball.

Having been given the task of sweeping, Rebecca Stirewalt is intent on doing a good job.

MOLDING THE FUTURE

Will there be success? Wealth? Fame? No one knows. However, in every person lies the potential to achieve greatness and to mold the future. This distinction may be apparent only to the closest friends; yet, the mark can be made, the importance can be there. It is not a question of quantity, but of quality. To be good in several fields is an accomplishment, but to be the best in one field is an even greater attainment.

AND END . . . AND A BEGINNING

To many, the finishing of high school represents an end to term papers, homework, and school lunches. But most importantly, an end to one phase of life. Never again will life contain the security and relatively carefree days of high school. However, to others, commencement is not an end, but rather a beginning; a beginning of a new lifestyle, new friends, and new experiences. At the completion of high school, a new horizon appears, and, like all new thresholds, it must be explored, experienced, and expressed to be appreciated.

Throughout life, students will always remember WHS.

The library provides a good atmosphere for studying and thinking.
